LUNACY

NEW SINGLE 20TH OF JUNE

"It seems everybody needs someone to blame, or something that explains why everything feels out of place. Some like to blame the moon."

Lunacy gives you the nostalgic memories of 90s pop that, combined with modern beats, shape a dreamlike soundscape.

Cebratrack's distinctive sound challenges the boundaries when combining synthetic elements with everyday organic sounds.

The lyrics almost always lure in the borderlands surrounding humanity's innermost dark feelings - the ones we so rarely dare to talk about.

This fall the EP titled 'Sending Poems to Space' will be released. Stay tuned!

AVAILABLE ON ALL MAJOR STREAMING PLATFORMS!

Behind the music and art project Cebratrack we have Erica Hallström, a Swedish artist known for her unique blend of organic and electronic sounds. With thought-provoking lyrics and an experimental approach to production her music often describes feelings from a different angle, exploring conflicts within ourselves. The music overturn the concepts of sanity and madness, and leaves the listener with a clinging question of "right or wrong".
